

---

Webinar: 'The Nexus in Education and Career Development'

29 November 2022

(14:00 - 16:00 CET)

Virtual Event

Register: http://bit.ly/3TkVafs

AGENDA

Moderators of the event	Zakhar Maletskyi	Norwegian University of Life Sciences
	Tamara Rađenović	University of Niš, Serbia
	Floor Brouwer	United Nations University, UNU-FLORES, Germany

14:00	Welcoming and introduction to the Webinar	Zakhar Meletskyi/ Floor Brouwer
14:10	Expectations and needs – what is needed to develop a nexus curriculum in universities	Tamara Rađenović	University of Niš, Serbia	Introducing the WEF Nexus Course at the University of Niš, Serbia: Needs, Expectations, Possibilities, and Limitations.
		Serena Caucci	UNU-FLORES, Germany	The case of the short research stays mission of COST Action: Nexus at the core of education and policy training

Good Practices Regarding a Nexus curriculum in Universities

14:30

Moderator: Tamara Rađenović

- |   |   |                    |  |  |
|---|---|--------------------|--|--|
| * | Building a professional identity in Sustainability   | Kirsten Rowell     | Director of Research Leadership, University of Colorado                                    | The presentation will focus on the Global Sustainability Scholars Program, funded by the National Science Foundation. This is a multi-year program partnered with Future Earth and Belmont Form, whereby undergraduate and graduate students are embedded in SUGI nexus projects.  |
| * | Building awareness and capacity for WEF Nexus operationalization – lessons from southern Africa. | Tafadzwa Mabhaudhi | (Research Group Leader - Sustainable and Resilient Food Production Systems (SuRF) at IWMI) | The WEF nexus approach has been adopted by the Southern African Development Community (SADC) as a systematic approach to addressing complex socio-economic and socio-ecological and achieving several Sustainable Development Goals. The presentation will share experiences on how the CGIAR Nexus Gains Initiative is working to support regional efforts through building awareness and tailored capacity development for the WEF nexus and facilitating the outscaling of lessons from the SADC to other regions such as South Asia. |

*	SMARTEN project: creating an engaging curriculum for learning with SIM4NEXUS	Nikos Mellios Alexandra Spyropoulou	University of Thessaly, Greece	SMARTEN (Serious Games for Digital Readiness of Water Education), Erasmus+ project that includes curriculum development based on SIM4NEXUS. See also: https://smartenproject.eu/
*	Creating opportunities for the young nexus community in NEXUSNET	Naomi Timmer	European Junior Water Programme, the Netherlands	Needs and opportunities for modular skills development for nexus community

15:30

Towards a Modular Nexus Curriculum

Moderator: Floor Brouwer

*	Creating synergy to meet the global challenges: nexus curriculum	Tore Sætersdal	University of Bergen, Norway
		Ronald PD Semyalo	Makerere University, Uganda
*	Development of skills in the European Junior Water Programme	Naomi Timmer	European Junior Water Programme, the Netherlands

15:55 Summary and Follow Up

16:00 Closure of the Webinar

Notes:

- For content-related questions please contact to:

Floor Brouwer (UNU-FLORES): floor.brouwer@unu.edu

Serena Caucci (UNU-FLORES): caucci@unu.edu

- For technical matters please contact to:

Zeynep Ozkul (UNU-FLORES): ozkul@unu.edu

UNITED NATIONS UNIVERSITY

UNU-FLORES

Institute for Integrated Management of Material Fluxes and of Resources